

Web Archiving Services and associated Web Archive Collections are managed by Digitization and Repository Services in Libraries and Cultural Resources with the goal of preserving the research, teaching and learning and cultural websites created by University of Calgary faculty, staff, and students.

The screenshot shows the search interface for the University of Calgary Web Archive Collections. At the top, there is a header with the Archive-IT logo and the University of Calgary name, along with metadata: "Archive-It Partner Since: Apr, 2018", "Organization Type: Colleges & Universities", and "Organization URL:". Below this is a "Narrow Your Results" section with a "Subject" filter showing "Arts & Humanities (1)", "Computers & Technology (1)", "Science & Health (1)", and "Universities & Libraries (1)". A "Sort By: Count | (A-Z)" option is also present. A search bar contains the text "Enter search terms here" and has "Search" and "Clear" buttons. Below the search bar are tabs for "Collections", "Sites", and "Search Page Text". The main results area shows "Page 1 of 1 (2 Total Results)" and "Sort By: Collection Name (A-Z) | Collection Name (Z-A)". Two results are listed: "University of Calgary Research Projects" (archived since Jan, 2019; description: Websites produced by research teams, faculty, staff, and students at the University of Calgary; subject: Computers & Technology, Arts & Humanities, Science & Health) and "University of Calgary Websites" (archived since Jan, 2019; description: Cultural heritage of the institution as represented on university websites; subject: Universities & Libraries). The results area also shows "Page 1 of 1 (2 Total Results)" at the bottom.

Narrow collections by Subject, use search terms, or select a specific collection.

Collection pages include collection-level descriptive metadata as well as search and browse capabilities at site and page levels. The facets that appear in the left-hand sidebar can be used to filter results.

Searching full-text

Perform a full text search by clicking on the "Search Page Text" tab, either from the "Web Archive Collections" page, or from a specific collection page.

The main search box runs a basic keyword search, Advanced Search Options on the left (described below) allow you to further refine the scope of your search.

Advanced Search

Full-text advanced search options

- Contains all of: As with basic search, this option is to search for results with all keyword terms
- Exact phrase: Displays only results that match an exact phrase
- Not containing: Displays only results that include none of the designated words
- From the host: Displays only results from the designated host (parent website)
- Results per host: Default is to display top result per parent site. Change to 5, 10, 25 or unlimited.
- Collections: Available from the "Web Archive Collections" page. Select a collection(s) to search

Advanced search options can also be used in the main search box:

- Default is AND: so Dinos mascot will search all documents with Dinos and mascot only
- Minus: Rex -Dinos will only present search results for documents with Rex but without Dinos
- Exact Phrase: "Rex the Dinos mascot" will return only results with that exact text string in them

Enter a search term on the right to search the text within the archived pages. Or for more search options, use the Advanced Search options below.
